Philosophy of education - Wikipedia

Philosophy of education, philosophical reflection on the nature, aims, and problems of education. The philosophy of education is Janus-faced, looking both inward to the parent discipline of philosophy and outward to educational practice. (In this respect it is like other areas of "applied" philosophy, such as the philosophy of law, the philosophy of science, and the philosophy of medicine, including bioethics.) This dual focus requires it to work on both sides of the traditional divide

My Personal Philosophy of Education. My philosophy of education are the types that are known as progressivism and existentialism. I believe that for me a combination of the two is a perfect way to teach. Progressivism is ideal because the teacher gives the student a say in what they can do within the classroom. An educational philosophy refers to a teacher's vision of the grander purpose of education and its role in society.

Educational philosophy questions involve such issues as a teacher's vision of their role as a teacher, their view of how students learn best, and their basic goals for their students.

An educational philosophy should guide a teacher's discussions in job interviews, and it should be communicated
