Unconventional and provocative, My Life with Things is Elizabeth Chin's meditation on her relationship with consumer goods and a critical statement on the politics and method of anthropology. Chin centers the book on diary entries that focus on everyday items—kitchen cabinet knobs, shoes, a piano—and uses them to intimately examine the ways consumption resonates with personal and social meaning: from writing love haikus about her favorite nail polish and discussing the racial implications of her tooth cap, to revealing how she used shopping to cope with a miscarriage and contemplating how her young daughter came to think that she needed Lunesta. Throughout, Chin keeps Karl Marx and his family's relationship to their possessions in mind, drawing parallels between Marx's napkins, the production of late nineteenth-century table linens, and Chin's own vintage linen collection. Unflinchingly and refreshingly honest, Chin unlocks the complexities of her attachments to, reliance on, and complicated relationships with her things. In so doing, she prompts readers to reconsider their own consumption, as well as their assumptions about the possibilities for creative scholarship.

This work is the only complete compilation of polls taken by the Gallup Organization, the world's most reliable and widely quoted research firm. It is an invaluable tool for ascertaining the pulse of American public opinion in a certain year, as well as for documenting changing perceptions over time of crucial core issues (such as women's rights and health care). It is necessary for all social science research. More than just a collection of polls, The Gallup Poll offers in-depth commentary and analysis, placing current topics in a readable, historical context. Survey results are given in an easy-to-use form. Breakdowns by sex, age, race, level of education, and other factors enable the reader to grasp major issues quickly.

Issues discussed in this book reflect not only research work, but also experience by the author, to guide the mind of individuals who had been prejudiced by mind-sets, training, doctrines, beliefs, and peers. Some individual had accepted poverty, and believed they will never be rich. Some others had accepted defeat in life, and lay blames on their surroundings, friends, and families, instead of blaming it on their lack of persistence, perseverance, selfimprovement, and unceasing prayers. However, after reading this book, you will hone your thoughts. You can think yourself into success, or into poverty. You can think yourself into progress or retrogression. Our mind-sets are the powerhouse of our actions — success and failure in all areas of our lives: love, faith, sex, business, education, profession, marriage, friendship, etc... The perspectives in this book are the issues of fears, the four Idols that prejudice understanding, emotional pitfall (love, faith, sex, and anger), power of knowledge, truth and reality, power of thoughts, cultural and ethnic miscues, perseverance, persistence, prayers, peers, mental capability, information quality, and more, and their respective influences on individuals ' behaviours and successes. The author concludes this book with final words of mind guide, which encompass almost all the areas discussed in the preceding twelve (12) chapters.
